SEA-BORNE INVADERS STORMING EASTERN GATEWAY OF JAVA

Islands of Timor And Bali Attacked By Landing Forces

BY ROGER D. GREENE
Associated Press War Editor

Japan's sea-borne invasion armies stormed at the eastern gateway to Java today, attacking the storied island of Bali and landing troops on the jointly owned Dutch-Portuguese island of Timor farther to the east.

The Dutch high command said Allied warships and submarines attacked the Japanese invasion armada around Bali last night, adding:

"Further particulars are lacking as no complete report has yet been received."

"Vital points on Bali have been destroyed," an N. E. I. communiqué said tersely.

Strong action is being taken against landings which the enemy is carrying out."

Dispatches from Batavia said the defenders were exacting a heavy toll as Japanese landing parties swarmed ashore.

United Nations headquarters said Allied planes smashed heavily at the invaders, scoring three direct hits on one or more Japanese cruisers, two direct hits on transports, and eight "near misses" on a destroyer.

Four Japanese fighter planes were shot in the attack, without loss to the Allied defenders.

"The communiqué further reported that five Japanese bombers and six fighters were shot down in air battles over the big Dutch island of Java."

Imperial Tokyo headquarters said that Japanese troops, protected by the guns of warships, landed at dawn on the mountainous 300-mile-long island of Timor.

Rich in gold, copper, gypsum and petroleum, Timor lies at the eastern tip of the Dutch Indies archipelago, only 450 miles northwest of Darwin, Australia.

In the battle of Burma, British aerial troops were reported holding firmly in positions along the Bilin river, 80 miles northeast of Rangoon, after 24 hours of fierce attacks and counterattacks.

Coupled with the grave turn of events in the Indies, Tokyo headquarters reported that waves of Japanese planes attacked the Australian auxiliary cruiser, two destroyers, a sub-chaser and nine transports at Darwin.

In the Philippines, General Douglas MacArthur reported that fighting from fixed bayonets raged along the entire Bataan Peninsula, and that Japanese planes were dropping incendiary bombs behind the American-Philippine defense lines.

How much longer General MacArthur's outnumbered troops could hold on was problematical, but apparently the Japanese had not yet started a climactic, all-out assault.

The effect of the Timor operations upon neutral Portugal was problematical.

She already had protested and ordered troops to Portuguese Timor, the eastern section of the island.

The Japanese contended, however, their troops would be withdrawn from Portuguese Timor as soon as the Dutch and the Australians were expelled.

RUSSIAN PAPER CONFIDENT OF HITLER DEFEAT

BY EDDY GILMORE

Moscow, Feb. 20.—(P)—Red Star declared today that the fighting coalition of the United States, Britain and Soviet Russia is stronger than Germany in resources and reserves, and predicted the defeat of Adolf Hitler's spring campaign and the crushing of his armies this year.

"Economic resources will mean the final decision," said the journal of the Red army, "Soviet Russia, Britain and the United States are producing 25 times as much gasoline as Germany together with her vassals and occupied lands."

The United States turns out three times as much steel as Germany, Red Star said. It declared that in manpower reserves the United States, Britain and Russia were far ahead.

"The help we are receiving from our allies is growing continuously," Red Star said, "and no doubt simultaneously the military efforts of our allies will grow."

The Russian government said today its winter offensive was rolling on and that counterattacks against the Red army on some sectors had been repelled "with heavy losses to the Germans."

In fierce fighting on the northern wing of the front, between Moscow and Leningrad, Soviet troops were reported officially to have taken back the city.

SALVAGE PROCESSES ARE BEING DISCUSSED

Philadelphia, Feb. 20.—(P)—One hundred thousand small businesses may be shutdown within six months unless an immediate and thorough salvage of scrap materials is forthcoming, says Lessing J. Rosenwald, director of the Bureau of Industrial Conversion.

He conferred yesterday with industrialists of this area on various salvage processes.

George Waymouth, assistant director of the industrial salvage division of the war production board, warned the group that it was believed some industries were hoarding scrap and that the government would requisition it unless the material was made available.

LATE WAR BULLETINS

An East Coast Canadian Port, Feb. 20.—(P)—Twenty-two survivors of a ship torpedoed in the eastern Atlantic have been landed here, while two other lifeboats from the ship still are unreported, was announced today.

R. A. F. ACTIVE ON BURMA FRONT

Rangoon, Burma, Feb. 20.—(P)—British and Indian defense forces are counter-attacking repeatedly in attempts to hold their hard-pressed line on the west bank of the Bilin river, an army communiqué declared today.

The war bulletin said "fierce fighting has continued during the past 24 hours behind the Bilin river."

"Successful air action yesterday had a considerably heartening effect on our troops," the communiqué added.

Elaborating the reference to air activity, a Royal Air Force communiqué said "our bombers and fighters carried out a number of attacks yesterday on enemy positions, stores and transports in the Bilin river area."

The R.A.F. reported little enemy activity.

UNLIMITED SESSION IS AGITATED

Democratic Leaders in Assembly Doubting Constitutionality of Request for Broad War Powers, Start Move to Keep Legislature Functioning

RECESS FROM TIME TO TIME IS ADVOCATED

Harrisburg, Feb. 20.—(P)—Democratic leaders in the general assembly expressed doubt today of the constitutionality of Governor James' request for broad war powers as a move was started to keep the legislature in continuous session during the national emergency.

"There's a grave doubt whether it's constitutional," said Senator B. E. McGinnis, Democratic floor leader from Allegheny county, in commenting on the administration bill authorizing James to suspend or modify state laws which the Defense Council thought hindered the war program.

The senate's state government committee has held up the war powers measure until next week to allow members additional time for study.

In the house, Rep. Homer S. Brown (D-Allegheny), chairman of the judiciary general committee, said he intended to offer a joint resolution next week to keep both branches in session during the emergency. He proposed this course as an alternative to granting sweeping authority to the defense council and the governor.

Brown suggested the house recess from time to time and return to the capital whenever James thought modification of laws was necessary.

Rep. Leo A. Achterman, Democratic floor leader in the house, agreed with Brown as did Reps. Reuben E. Cohen (D-Phila.) and Albert S. Readinger (D-Berks).

Democrats and Republicans alike conceded the governor's proposal would have a rough course through the assembly. James, however, made it plain at his press conference that it was up to the legislature to find some method of

DARWIN HARBOR HAS ITS THIRD AIR RAID ALARM

Sydney, Australia, Feb. 20.—(P)—The third air raid alarm in two days sounded today for the lonely little naval harbor of Darwin, which has been catapulted into sudden, vital importance to the United Nations by the loss of other naval bases.

No bombers appeared but this may have meant only that the Japanese were scouting the effects of their two destructive air smashes yesterday or feeling out the defenses of Australia's far northern coast for more forays on the town and its valuable harbor.

Australian fighter planes and anti-aircraft guns gave battle to 93 Japanese bombers and fighters which roared over in two waves to put the Australian mainland under an invader's steel for the first time in its history.

They knocked down six but were unable to stave off considerable bomb damage both ashore and in the harbor and casualties included 15 persons killed and 24 wounded.

With some presumed operating from an aircraft carrier, the first wave of 72 planes, twin-engine bombers conveyed by fighters, split into two groups. One smashed at the wharves and shipping. The other attacked inland. A second wave included 21 bombers.

Several ships were hit, wharves and buildings were damaged, among them several service and civilian hospitals which were bombed and machine-gunned—but no vital services were destroyed, a communiqué said.

BRAZILIAN SHIP U-BOAT VICTIM

Norfolk, Va., Feb. 20.—(P)—The 4,080-ton Brazilian freighter Olinda was sunk by an Axis submarine off the Atlantic coast Wednesday afternoon, the Fifth Naval District announced today, and crew members landed here declared the submersible was "pocket size."

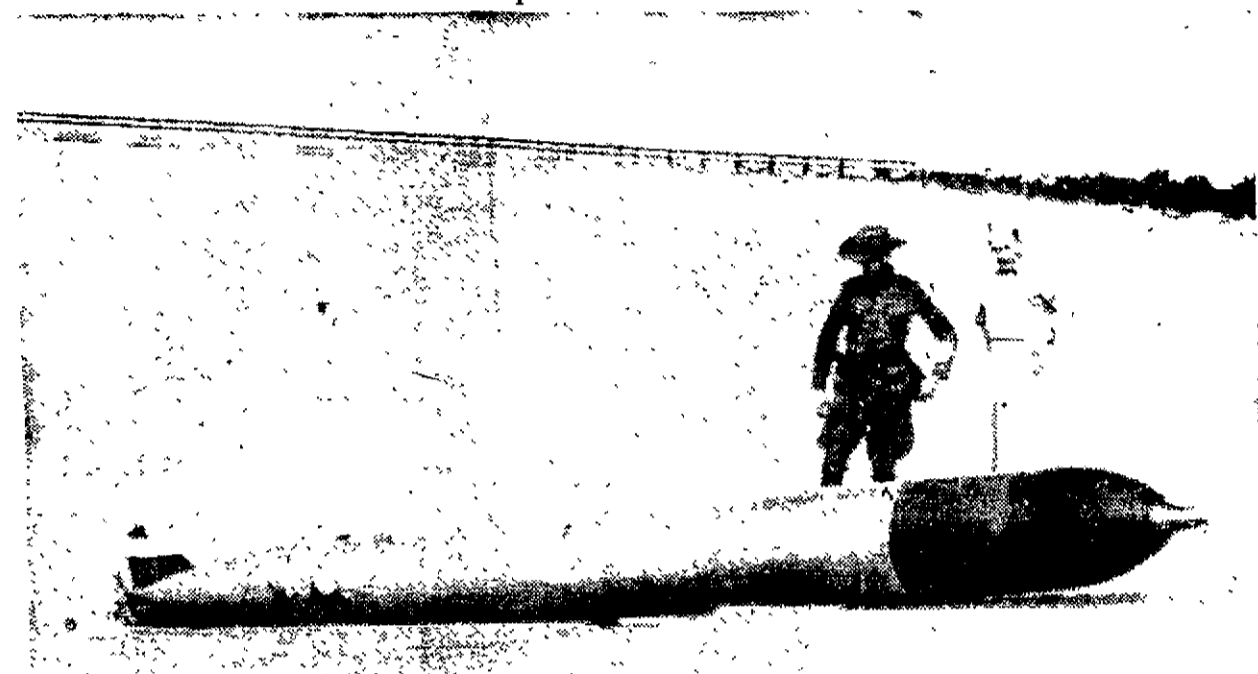

The entire crew of 46 was picked up from two life boats by a rescue ship after alternately drifting and rowing for 20 hours.

Francisco Nogueira, of Sao Paulo, Brazil, said that he and Captain Jacob Benomonde were ordered aboard the submarine by its commander and were questioned concerning the nature of their cargo, where they were from and their destination.

The submarine, which fired "seventeen or eighteen shells—more or less"—was sighted by a

ARUBA FORCES SEEK REVENGE FOR ASSAULTS

BY CHANDLER DIEHL

St. Nicholas, Aruba, Dutch West Indies, Feb. 20.—(P)—Revenge was the principal thought of this oil-important little island today after its inhabitants—United States as well as Dutch soldiers among them—had experienced the second u-boat bombardment in four days.

Coincident with a new outbreak of torpedo attacks on oil tankers in these vital waters off the northern Venezuelan coast, an enemy submarine sent shells hurtling into the area of the great oil refinery here at dawn yesterday.

United States bombers already were aloft patrolling, and unloading explosives so quickly that one pilot was confident the u-boat had been damaged.

The submarine's shells hit only unessential targets, without exploding, and Aruba's two great refineries—one of them reputed to be the world's largest—was untouched.

Off the island, however, and within 700 miles of the Panama Canal, a tanker flying the flag of Panama was torpedoed and two ships at anchor in the Gulf of Paria, off Port of Spain, Trinidad, were damaged Wednesday night by explosions presumably caused by the u-boat.

STATE COLLEGE CRIME RECALLED BY ARREST

Cooperstown, N. Y., Feb. 20.—(P)—Arnold Gasparro, 27, Scottsdale, Pa., may be questioned about the 1940 slaying of co-ed Rachel Taylor at Pennsylvania State College, state police said today.

Inspector Ernest Maynard said Gasparro has been held in the Otsego county jail on a charge of assault with intent to commit rape. He is scheduled for a hearing Wednesday.

Police said they understood Gasparro had "traveled extensively" in eastern states as a salesman and collector and Inspector Maynard had suggested that Pennsylvania officers question him.

SECURITY BOARD RELEASES FUND TO PA. BUREAU

Harrisburg, Feb. 20.—(P)—The Federal Social Security Board today released an $85,000 payroll for 1,700 employees of the State Unemployment Compensation Bureau overdue since February 15 because of a dispute between the federal and state governments over civil service.

The federal board acted after receiving the state's promise to suspend dismissal of civil service workers, pending clarification of the state law on the subject, as requested by President Roosevelt.

Frank L. Shallow, director of the bureau, said checks to the workers in his department would be mailed immediately. The Social Security Board at Washington, he said, is among the first arrested in an FBI roundup of western Pennsylvania's enemy aliens, were held in the county jail today pending hearings on charges of failure to surrender shortwave radio sets or firearms.

Government agents identified the Erie countians, all natives of Germany, as Frederick William Denda, 48, butcher, of Albion, Pa. D. 2; Mrs. John Tuomper, 46, Erie housewife; and Walter Schneller, Jr., 25, Erie. The fourth was Peter Keck, 60, a farmer of Springboro, Pa., in Crawford county, who was born in Yugoslavia.

J. E. Thornton, agent in charge of FBI office in Pittsburgh, said agents found a .30-cal. shortwave radio and 13 shells in Keck's home and shortwave radio picked up in the homes of the other three.

FIRE NEAR SHAMOKIN

Shamokin, Feb. 20.—(P)—Three double dwellings were destroyed by fire today at nearby Kulpmont driving 38 persons into near-zero weather. Fire officials estimated the damage at $50,000. A canteen was set up in the Kulpmont Methodist church for the homeless and fire-fighters.

Pennsylvania's Political Picture Emerges From the Realm of Pure Speculation With Latest Developments

GUFFEY BACKS SMITH

By the Associated Press
Pennsylvania's political picture emerged from the realm of pure speculation today, as drives at last publicly gained momentum in both parties for the 1924 gubernatorial nomination.

With U. S. Senator Joseph Guffey's backing, Judge Ralph H. Smith of Pittsburgh placed himself in the running for the Democratic choice, while on the other side friends of Major General Edward Martin boomed a movement at Washington, Pa., to draft the one-time commander of the state's 28th Division for their standard-bearer.

Martin, still on active duty, hasn't declared himself available, but another Republican, U. S. Senator James J. Davis, announced his candidacy last Sunday.

While Smith is the only active Democrat out so far, any of four others are considered possible candidates. One, former Ambassador William C. Bullitt, is reportedly President Roosevelt's choice for a compromise candidate whom all

SENATE ADOPTS BILL TO REPEAL PENSION PLAN

Washington, Feb. 20.—(P)—Senators who voted overwhelmingly for repeal of the congressional pension law looked expectantly toward the house today to complete the lawmakers' about-face on the widely criticized legislation.

By a vote of 75 to 5, the senate late yesterday reversed its previous approval of pensions for congressmen and then rejected 49 to 22, an attempt by Senator Downey (D-Calif.) to provide all needy persons of 60 and older with a monthly federal pension of $30.

London, Feb. 20.—(P)—The hearing of Gordon Cummins, 28-year-old RAF leader, against a man charged with murder for three women, was postponed today until March 2. Cummins was charged Tuesday with the mutilation-killing of Mrs. Margaret Florence Love, 43; Mrs. Doris Jouann, 32; and Mrs. Evelyn Gately, 30.

FOUR TAKEN IN ERIE ROUNDUP

Erie, Feb. 20.—(P)—Four residents of Erie and Crawford counties, among the first arrested in an FBI roundup of western Pennsylvania's enemy aliens, were held in the county jail today pending hearings on charges of failure to surrender shortwave radio sets or firearms.

Government agents identified the Erie countians, all natives of Germany, as Frederick William Denda, 48, butcher, of Albion, Pa. First Lady Resigns Post in Office of Civilian Defense

Washington, Feb. 20.—(P)—Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt today resigned her post as assistant director of the Office of Civilian Defense.

James M. Landis, director, accepted the resignation in a letter voicing gratitude for her "vision and energy," but saying he could not ask her to continue "to give so greatly of your time and your gallantry."

Mrs. Roosevelt recently made known her intention to resign as soon as her division was functioning efficiently.

"That is now accomplished," her letter of resignation to Landis said, "and by remaining I would only make it possible for those who wish to attack me, because of my policies to attack an agency which I consider can prove its usefulness so completely to the people, that it should be free of attack, in order to render its maximum service."

The first lady was appointed to OGD last September by former Director F. H. LaGuardia.

War Department Communique Reports That Hostilities Continue on All Sections of the Peninsula Front, as Senators Demand Defense for American Coasts

STIMSON STATEMENT AROUSES CRITICISM

Washington, Feb. 20.—(P)—The war department reported today that fighting from fixed positions continues on all sections of the front in Bataan, and that enemy airplanes have dropped a number of phosphorus bombs on installations behind the defending lines.

War department officials said that while phosphorus ignites easily having a kindling point of 44 degrees centigrade, but could be extinguished quite easily with water. In laboratory use, they explained, it is stored under water to prevent accidental fire. In burning, it throws off a dense white smoke, and this property has resulted in its widespread use for smoke screens.

Officials said that so far as they know, the material has not been used for incendiary bombs in Europe.

Three influential senators demanded today that adequate provisions be made for defense of American coastlines.

Senators Walsh (D-Mass.), Byrd (D-Va.) and John (R-Calif.) urged this protection despite an assertion by Secretary of War Stimson that dispersal of forces to halt enemy coastal raids might retard offensives elsewhere.

A concrete indication that such offensives might develop sooner than generally expected was contained in the latest advices from the Netherlands East Indies.

The army said last night that a formation of 16 American P-40 (Turn to Page Fifteen)

Batavia, N. E. I., Feb. 20.—(P)—C. Yates McDaniel, Associated Press correspondent who was the last American newspaperman to leave Singapore, arrived in Batavia this morning after a hazardous week-long trip in which his ship was bombed and sunk shortly after it sailed from the British base.

SENATE ADOPTS BILL TO REPEAL PENSION PLAN

London, Feb. 20.—(P)—Reuters reported today from Batavia that C. Yates McDaniel, Associated Press correspondent and last American newspaperman to leave Singapore before its fall, had arrived in the Netherlands East Indies.

(The last message received from McDaniel by the Associated Press in New York was filed from Singapore at 4:45 P.M. Feb. 12 and said he was aboard a ship in Singapore harbor under heavy attack by Japanese war planes.)

McDaniel's party left Singapore Feb. 13, Reuters said, and their ship was bombed heavily just as it left.

"The party managed to find their way in one of the ship's boats to a small tropical island," Reuters said, "there they got a junk and sailed toward Sumatra."

SON OF FORMER KINZUA MAN IS LOST IN ACTION

Word has been received here that the son of a former Kinzua resident was lost in action in the attack on Pearl Harbor by the Japanese on December 7.

He is William Stans Moorehouse, 26, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Moorehouse, of Wichita, Kans., and a grandson of Mrs. George W. Moorehouse, of Kinzua.

The young man, who had visited in both Warren and Kinzua on numerous occasions, was a member of the band on the U. S. S. Arizona.

According to the word received by the youth's parents from the Navy Department in Washington, he was missing in action and must be considered lost.

The grandfather of the young man, George W. Moorehouse, at one time conducted a hardware store in Kinzua. His son, Harold Moorehouse, spent his youth in that village, later residing in Erie before going to Kansas.

TO STREAMLINE 28TH DIVISION NOW IN SOUTH

Pennsylvania's 28th Division, which includes soldiers from Warren and other cities throughout this section, is going to be streamlined according to an Associated Press dispatch received from Washington yesterday.

Secretary of War Stimson announced that the 28th and the other 17 national guard square divisions now in federal service will be reorganized into smaller, triangular divisions to conform with other such units of the armed forces.

Such a reorganization would substantially reduce the size of the divisions at full strength but would add both speed and striking power.

As against full war strength of 22,272 officers and men for a square division, a triangular division has a strength of 15,245. During the first World War, divisions at overseas war strength some times contained as many as 34,000 men.

The triangular division has three infantry regiments, instead of the square division's four, and the brigade organization of the old-type division is eliminated.

In the square division, the four infantry regiments were organized into two brigades, and there was also a field artillery brigade of three regiments. In the streamlining process, the field artillery is reduced to four battalions, and the various units of supporting troops also are scaled down.

The result is a compact, heavily armed but highly flexible division composed of three "combat teams" of infantry and artillery, plus supporting units, all operating directly under the division commander, with the brigade commands eliminated.

The Pennsylvania outfit, now in Louisiana, this week is observing the first anniversary of its induction into federal service. The guardsmen were mustered in on February 17, 1941.

Company parties and dances are being held nightly and as a feature of the observance, ending tomorrow, the troops will be addressed by their new commander, Brig. Gen. J. Francis O'Grady.

Addressed by Governor James and Major General Leslie J. McNair, army general staff headquarters, will be read to the unit.

Representatives Of County Groups Hold Nutrition Meeting

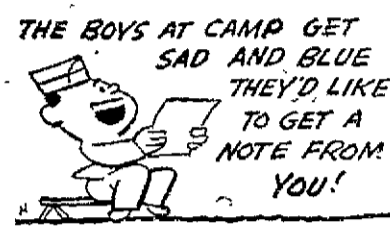

H. L. Blair, county superintendent of schools, presided as temporary chairman at the first meeting of the Warren county nutrition committee, held at the court house and attended by 12 representatives of various county groups.

Nutrition needs of people in the county were surveyed and plans were suggested for reaching them through the schools, nutrition exhibits and literature, the P. T. A.'s and other organizations.

The purposes of the committee were given by Thelma Prendergast, home economics extension worker, and an outline of the work of the committee was presented by Arlene Schure, home economics educational advisor.

These two, along with Mrs. Dorothy Wheeler, farm security supervisor, of Corry, were asked by Laura Drummond, chairman of the state committee, to organize a local group for action.

WHAT SHALL WE SAVE?

Mrs. E. P. Wroth, chairman of the Consumers' committee for the Council of Defense, has just received instructions from the State Council for Defense in Harrisburg to organize her committee and begin its operations.

Many, after hearing and reading appeals to save, have been asking "What exactly shall we save? To whom do we give the things we have saved?"

Here is the answer: Old metals, paper, rags and rubber should be saved for reclamation. At this time it is expected that waste materials for salvage will not be collected as in the aluminum drive, but should be sold as junk, either through a charitable organization or directly to the junk dealer.

Amounts of at least one hundred pounds of paper (a stack of newspapers as high as the household broom) plus other articles on your list would warrant a trip by the collector.

For further information a detailed list follows:

Save all rags: All fiber materials, clean or soiled. Cotton, rayon, linen, wool, acetate, hair, silk, nylon, jute and sisal. Carpets, rugs, window shades, curtains, upholstery coverings, upholstery stuffing (except excelsior), string, rope and twine.

Save Paper: Newspapers, cardboard (pieces or boxes), kraft (wrapping paper), tissue, wrapping paper, cellophane, magazines, books. (Note, do not burn paper. The local disposal companies are salvaging most of the clean paper given to them).

Save scrap metal: All iron and steel, as machine parts, sash weights, irons, pipe, boilers, iron lamp bases, fence posts, gates, etc.

Save all brass: Plumbing fixture parts, brass lighting fixtures, ornaments, brass beds, etc.

Save all aluminum: Old cooking utensils, vacuum cleaner parts, aluminum auto parts and machinery parts.

Save rubber clothing: Old overshoes, boots, rubber raincoats, (not rubberized fabrics), inner tubes, gloves, mats, baby pants, etc.

Save all grease and fats: Strain kitchen greases (bacon, lamb, beef), and all cooking fats through a wire strainer and place in clean coffee tins, quart jars or other container.

Further directions in this consumer saving will follow.

On the Consumer Committee with Mrs. Wroth as chairman, are Mrs. Edith Smith, Mrs. Ethel Murphy, Mrs. Hiram Jacobs, Miss Hazel Finley, Mrs. Althea Correll and Mrs. William H. Wright.

ALL SET FOR DOLLAR DAY

Don't discard this issue of the Times-Mirror without studying very carefully the bargains that are to be found in the Dollar Day advertisements.

It is certain that bright and early tomorrow large crowds will be on the streets, eager to take advantage of the savings that are being offered by the 28 participating firms.

This year Dollar Day has more significance than usual, because of the fact that it is becoming difficult to secure goods due to the heavy demands by the army and defense work.

Tomorrow's Dollar Day offers an excellent opportunity for shoppers of the area to supply demands and at prices that will mean money saved for every person participating.

The merchants are all set for the big event. You may be sorry if you permit this money-saving event to pass without taking advantage of it.

Daily War-time Lenten Sermonette

"THE MOUNTAIN THAT IS GOD"
Rev. Stephen R. Schieb, Salem Evangelical Church

"... and being in agony he prayed more earnestly."—Luke 22:39, 44.
"I will lift up mine eyes unto the hills, from whence cometh my help."—Psalm 121:1.

The Indians called Mount Rainier "Tahoma—the mountain that is God." "Into the woods my Master went," so runs the poetic story, to find strength for the heaviest ordeal of His whole life—a decision of life and death. The mountain that is God was the Psalmist's rendezvous when he was in a crisis.

Life today is not easy, either. Nothing but the most rugged thing in our world—mountains and majestic trees—can furnish our harassed lives the symbols of strength upon which we climb, like a ladder, up to God.

Like a huge mountain with a broad base: like a majestic tree with a wide net of tap-roots: so stands God in our toppling world. Lent says: This Eternal God, through the suffering of His Son, has come near you to offer His arms to you. Repent, and become included in them. Pray:

Dear Heavenly Father, I stretch my hands to Thee for help.
A broken and contrite heart Thou wilt not despise.
That is the way I come. Amen.

T-H-O-U-G-H-T-S

When thou prayest, enter into thy closet, and when thou hast shut thy door, pray to thy Father which is in secret; and thy Father which seeth in secret shall reward thee openly.—Matthew 6:6.

She knows omnipotence has heard her prayer and cries, "It shall be done—sometime, somewhere."—Ophelia G. Browning.

• EDSON'S WASHINGTON COLUMN

BY PETER EDSON
Times-Mirror Washington
Correspondent

Washington, Feb. 20.—Unless it can be stopped by some of Donald Nelson's best, straight-from-the-shoulder shooting, another war production palace battle is apparently in the making over how much say-so labor unions are to be given in shaping policies with management for war production industries.

Background for this feud can be traced directly to the C. I. O. insistence in conversion of the three or four years, that labor has given a voice in management. Management has considered this theory as nothing more than a fantastic pipedream, but the war has given organized labor leaders the opportunity to plug the idea pretty hard. By calling attention to every mistake that management has made in the defense effort, and profiting business as usual and high prices, the labor leaders have promoted the idea further. Today they have it up at the top of the list of their principal objectives along with national recognition of the closed shop.

It was, in fact, a squabble over labor's participation with management in conversion of the automobile industry that wrecked the old Office of Production Management organization, and packed William S. Knudsen off to the army as a lieutenant general. When the protracted auto industry conferences at the turn of the year failed to produce any satisfactory program for conversion of the auto plants to war production, OPM was knocked out of the box and Donald Nelson and the War Production Board were sent in to pick the specific issue which wrecked OPM, which was simply C. I. O. labor's plan for pooling machine capacity of the auto industry and converting it to all-out war production. It was a labor bid for a voice in management. Management would have none of the idea, ostensibly because management was convinced it wouldn't work, subconsciously, perhaps because it was a suggestion from labor.

Whatever the reasoning, OPM fell. On Jan. 13 Nelson was called to head WPB and on Jan. 20 he announced his plan for reorganization. At that time Nelson stated he would have one industry branch chief, a centralized authority government man responsible directly to the WPB boss, but that each of these industry branch chiefs would have two advisory committees, one from management and one from labor. The advisory committees would meet separately, but could be called together for joint meetings when necessary.

The formula seemed satisfactory to both management and labor. At any rate, everyone had confidence in Nelson and was anxious to give the WPB every opportunity to make good. Nelson said he wanted constructive ideas from everyone, regardless of whether they came from management or labor. A month or more of operation under this policy has seen no real developments. It has taken Nelson this long to name his (Turn to Page Seven)

• STORIES IN STAMPS

THE Japanese, minor "allies" of the Allied Nations in World War I, took home as prizes many of the islands from which they operate against the ABCD powers in the Pacific today.

The stamp above, issued by the Marianas Islands under German domination in 1900, pictures Kaiser Wilhelm's yacht, "Hohenzollern." The islands, with the exception of Guam, were Spanish possessions until U. S. forces eliminated Spanish colonial power in 1898 and were ceded to Germany in 1899.

During the first World War Japan captured the unfortified islands as her share of the Pacific campaign. Later they were mandated to Japan at the peace-table settlements. Preferring floating naval bases of auxiliary vessels rather than established fortifications, Japan operated from Marianas outposts against Guam. Recently the U. S. Pacific Fleet wiped out a force of these floating bases at the Marshall Islands, 1500 miles from Guam, likewise mandated after 1918.

In 1939 Japan announced a "commercial" air service would start between Yokohama and Saipan, most important of the Marianas group.

MAKE PLANS TO ORGANIZE BAND AT PLANT HERE

If present plans materialize, the borough will be able to boast another good musical organization to its several successful bands. Although plans are only in the formative stage as yet, good progress is being made toward organization of a band among employees of the Struthers-Wells Company.

Those in charge are endeavoring to secure at least 25 pieces for the band. Nearly this number of musically-inclined men at the plant have already signified their intention of joining in the movement. Most of these men have their own instruments, but steps have been taken to secure a few needed pieces to complete the organization.

John Frontera, of this city, who is employed at the plant, has been appointed tempo or director of the band. Frontera was a member of the widely-known Knox Class Associates Band for a number of years. In spite of the fact that only one rehearsal has been held to date, officials are confident of its success.

No name for the organization has been decided upon, but it will be representative of the Struthers-Wells Company and will be fully uniformed. It is expected that a meeting will be held in the near future to discuss plans for the purchase of the uniforms.

Officials of the company have announced that the band will be available for parades and other public activities, especially of a patriotic nature, inasmuch as the plant is busily engaged in defense work.

WINTER BEAUTY TO BE FOUND IN STATE FORESTS

Harrisburg, Feb. 20—The State an enchanting beauty during the winter months according to Milford Bratton, Director of Parks, Department of Forests and Waters.

Trees are among the most beautiful living components in winter landscape and the effectiveness of evergreens against the barrenness of the countryside is very noticeable. The type of branching of trees that have lost their leaves and the fine penciling of their twigs against the sky is appealing. New delights are found in viewing the striking contrast of greens and browns etched against snow clad slopes. Here the lover of the outdoors will be able to identify trees by their shape, bark, designs and buds. Imprints and tracks in the snow enable one to learn many of the habits of the forest birds and animals.

The State Forests are of special interest aside from their utility value as the beauty of winter scenery provides no monotonous uniformity of vegetation. Care and anxiety are forgotten in the lone stillness.

The State Forests of Pennsylvania belong to the people of the State. They are open at all times for proper use.

McKenney On Bridge

OPENING LEAD IS LOW FROM SEQUENCE OF MINOR HONORS

BY WM. E. MCKENNEY
America's Card Authority

From the table of standard blind opening leads from 26 possible holdings, as given in my previous articles, the reader will see that, with two exceptions, the lead of an honor always guarantees that the leader holds at least the next lower honor as well.

The first exception is that the ace-lead usually denies possession of the king. The second exception is that the king-lead may show the ace rather than the queen—but it does not deny the possibility of the queen or both the ace and queen.

This sequence principle is carried down to the ten. But in connection with the ten, we once more meet a divergence in the lead against no trump and against a suit contract.

Holding	No. Trump	Suit
27. J 10 9 2	J	J
28. J 10 8 2	J	J
29. J 10 3 2	2	2
30. J 4 3 2	2	2
31. 10 9 8 2	10	10
32. 10 9 3 2	2	10
33. 9 8 7 2	2	2
34. 5 4 3 2	2	2

that it used to be a rule to lead from the top of a suit against a suit contract with a sequence of K-Q-3-2, Q-J-3-2, J-10-3-2 or 10-9-3-2. Present practice inclines to a low lead from Q-J-3-2 and J-10-3-2, while retaining the minor lead from the other two holdings.

But at no trump, the fourth-highest is the correct lead from anything less than three honors (or equivalents) at the top of a holding. Hence the divergence with holding No. 32.

The lead of the ten itself is most likely to show an "interior" sequence, such as A-10-9-2 (against no trump), K-10-9-2 (Q-10-9-2, even A-Q-10-9 (against no trump). It can also be led from 10-9-8-2.

Note holdings 33 and 34. The nine or a lower card is not led from an interior sequence. In each case lead the fourth-highest card. Likewise lead the fourth-highest from such combinations as K-9-8-2, Q-9-8-2 or J-9-8-2. The lead of a nine-spot, or of any lower card which is too high to be a fourth best, is reserved to show a holding of less than four cards.

In the table of leads as given so far, it was assumed that the holding was of at least four cards in length. Before we continue the table as to short holdings, a word of warning is advisable.

The reason for opening from a short holding rather than a long one may be that the short suit is a powerful sequence. But more often the reason is that the player's only long suit has been bid by an opponent.

The standard leads from short suits are fixed on the principle of deceiving partner as little as possible. But the experienced player sometimes departs from the table, selecting a card calculated to deceive the declarer in a situation where such deception is likely to be worth the risk of confusing the other defender.

BRIDGE—
SHORT SUIT LEADS ARE USED AGAINST
TRUMP CONTRACTS

BY WM. E. MCKENNEY
America's Card Authority

The leads tabulated in my previous articles have been from suits of at least four cards. In opening from length, a distinction is frequently made between the lead against a no trump contract and against a trump declaration.

With short suit leads, from three cards or less, this distinction largely disappears. Or rather, a table of blind short opening leads applies largely to trump contracts. The occasion for a blind short opening against no trump must be so extraordinary that the very reasons which impel it will often dictate an unconventional choice of card. The following leads, then, are given as against a suit contract.

With holding 37, the lead of the ace and then the king shows exactly a doubleton and a desire to ruff the third round of the suit. Holding 35 may be treated in the same way—the ace and king may be led in that order, to show third-round command. But the normal lead of the king, then the queen, would show the same without ambiguity.

With holding 38—even with A-J-2—the low card is sometimes led when the bidding tends to indicate that the king is in dummy, and that partner may make the queen

ARBORETUM TO BE CREATED AS RESULT OF WILL

Harrisburg, Feb. 20.—District Forester E. F. Brouse of the Valley Forge District with headquarters at Norristown, reports that one of the largest private forestry bequests made in Pennsylvania since the well-known Michaux legacy of $14,000 to the American Philosophical Society almost ninety years ago is provided for in the will of the late Dr. Harry F. Rentschler of Reading. He directed the amount of $5,000 be set aside to create and maintain an arboretum on his 24-acre farm in Penn Township, Berks County, for the benefit of the school children of that community. The will provides that at the death of his wife the entire farm is to be developed into a botanical garden.

planning committee, the WPE brain trusters who will look at this war production program in its broadest phases and advise on policy. At first, it was proposed to make this a big committee, with representatives from all degrees of management, labor, and consumer interests. Then it was changed to a small committee reporting directly to Nelson.

There is as yet no definite policy on how the labor advisory committees and management advisory committees are to work with the industry branch chiefs. Procedure varies within each industry.

The automobile industry, under Branch Chief Ernest Kanzer, has shown an inclination to work with the management and labor advisers and Walter Reuther sees Edsel Ford to discuss a broad program for standardizing the production of tank engines.

In the wool industry, labor sat down with management and helped work out the program of allocating production for civilian use.

In the pottery industry, the management advisory group asked to have the head of the union called in as a technical consultant, but the industry branch chief vetoed the proposal.

Policy on this point of labor-management participation, in summary, is still undetermined and performance is spotty. Labor leaders are meanwhile biding time, waiting to get a greater voice in the affairs of management for all this war production, using the labor advisory committees as their vehicle. In industries where they are not given a voice, they threaten to force a showdown and would apparently be willing to wreck any industry branch group, just as they wrecked OPM, to gain their point.

COUNTIES WILL RECEIVE SHARE OF FOREST FUND

As fixed by law, one fourth of all national forest receipts are returned to the counties in which the forest is located. According to Forest Supervisor R. F. Hemingway of Allegheny National Forest, a check for $9,059.30 has been turned over to the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania for distribution to Elk, Forest, McKean and Warren counties. The forest's 137,025 acres are almost equally divided among these counties.

More and more timber stands under adequate fire protection are becoming of commercial value. As a result timber sales on the Forest are on the increase. More contract operators, a great volume of sawtimber and forest products, plus higher prices is the outlook for 1942, stated Supervisor Hemingway. This forest land is now producing more than 15 million board feet annually and may be expected to continue to do so as younger stands grow out of the sapling and pole stages into sawtimber size.

In addition to the 25% returned to the counties, 10% more is made available to the forest for road construction and maintenance. This, together with other road maintenance funds allotted to the Allegheny National Forest, goes a long way in assisting the townships in their road maintenance problems, he stated.

ATTENTION SUBSCRIBERS

The Times-Mirror Office will remain open Saturday evening until 9 o'clock to allow the subscribers to take advantage of the Great Dollar Day Bargain, when $1.50 can be saved on each yearly subscription paid, regardless if it be a new, renewal or delinquent account.

INCOME TAX

No. 40
DEPRECIATION ALLOWANCES
The amount to be recovered by depreciation is the cost of the property, if acquired by purchase after February 28, 1913. If acquired by purchase prior to March 1, 1913, the basis is the cost of the property, less depreciation sustained prior to March 1, 1913, or the fair market value on March 1, 1913, whichever is greater.

The proper allowance for depreciation is that amount which should be set aside for the taxable year in accordance with a reasonably consistent plan (not necessarily a uniform rate) whereby the aggregate amount so set aside, plus the salvage value, will at the end of the useful life of the property equal the cost or other basis of the property.

The depreciation rate of a building is not based upon the number of years it will stand before being condemned and razed but on the number of years it will remain habitable or serviceable, for the Buildings under construction are not subject to a depreciation deduction. If it is clearly shown that, because of economic or other conditions, property must be abandoned at a date prior to the end of its normal useful life, so that depreciation deductions alone are insufficient to return the cost or other basis, a reasonable deduction for obsolescence may be allowed in addition to depreciation. No deduction for obsolescence is permitted because, in the opinion of the taxpayer, the property may become obsolete at some future date.

Knitting Record For Women To Shoot At

Townville, Feb. 20.—(P)—Mrs. Harriet Corliss, keeping in step with the quickened pace of the war program, is setting knitting records for other Pennsylvania women to shoot at.

Mrs. Corliss, who presents a pair of mittens to each baby born in the vicinity of this Crawford county town, has cut her knitting time from 15 hours down to 10 hours and 25 minutes per pair.

She explained she had to conserve time not only to keep up with the stock, but to get in extra hours for her Red Cross knitting. She has completed 80 pairs of mittens for the Red Cross and three shawls for British women.

The German high command communique reported again today that the Russians had suffered heavy casualties on the eastern front.

However, it acknowledged that the Soviet forces still were on the offensive.

TWO ARRESTED FOR CAR THEFT HELD AT CORRY

Kenneth B. Lloyd, of near Spangsbury, and Nick Russian, of Pittsburgh, were arrested by officers of the Corry barracks of the Pennsylvania Motor Police at the former's home about nine o'clock this morning for stealing a car in Reedsville, Mifflin county, which they abandoned at Irvine last night after it left the highway and crashed into a ditch.

Local officers of the motor police found the car abandoned about 8:30 o'clock last night. Apparently the driver failed to make the curve in the highway just east of the railroad tracks at Irvine, with the result that the car left the road and crashed into the ditch. The car had been traveling east toward Youngsville when the accident occurred.

Both young men are reported to have escaped from the guard-house at Fort Belvoir, Va., where they were in training. After teletype messages had been received here of their escape and of the stolen car from Reedsville, local officers compared descriptions of the men involved in the two cases and were convinced that the car had been stolen by the men.

Lloyd was released from the county jail here on February 12, after being taken into custody by Chief of Police Sanford Secor at Sheffield, where he had been acting in a disorderly manner. He was taken from Warren by an officer from Fort Belvoir, from which camp he had left without permission. Lloyd is said to have formerly resided at Sheffield.

The car found at Irvine is owned by Ralph M. Henry. It was taken to the Munksgard garage here. Police estimate that it was damaged to the extent of about $100.

According to officers of the Corry barracks, the men will be either returned to Reedsville to answer the car stealing charge or will be taken into custody by army officials. No definite disposition of prosecution has been arrived at, pending word from Fort Belvoir.

The local investigation was made by Privates E. A. Reeder and K. E. McCoy.

Senate Adopts Bill To Repeal Pension Plan

were in weekend recess, house agreement to the senate action must wait until Monday but Chairman Ramspeck (D-Ga.) of the house civil service committee said there was no doubt a majority of the house favored the repeal.

Chairman George (D-Ga.) of the senate finance committee warned that death might visit a million homes before the war ended and that people were in no mood to have congress debating pensions for anybody now.

Washington, Feb. 20.—(P)—Senator James J. Davis, Pennsylvania Republican, was among the 75 senators who yesterday successfully passed a measure to repeal the house pension bill for congressmen and other public officials. The senate voted 75-5 in favor of repeal. Senator Joseph Guffey, Pennsylvania Democrat, was not among those listed as participating in the vote.

Churchill Revamps Cabinet

An official announcement said Lord Beaverbrook had declined an invitation to join the new war cabinet on "grounds of health," two other veterans—Sir Kingsley Wood, chancellor of the exchequer, and Arthur Greenwood, Laborite minister without portfolio—simultaneously relinquished their places in the inner cabinet.

The only other change in the war cabinet involved Clement Attlee.

Prime Minister Churchill himself retained the portfolio of defense minister and first lord of the treasury.

New York, Feb. 20.—(P)—Sir Stafford Cripps said today Hitler faced certain defeat, in a message directed at German workers by the British Broadcasting Corporation in a broadcast shortly after Sir Stafford's elevation to the war cabinet.

Sir Stafford, former ambassador to Russia, said Soviet industry has been placed on a 100 per cent war basis and "every worker x x x is ready to die for his land and for the achievements of his people."

Semi-Holiday Plans At Local Postoffice

Semi-holiday regulations will be in effect at the local postoffice on Monday for the observance of the birthday anniversary of our country's first president, held one day later because the 22nd falls on Sunday.

31st Anniversary Of Local DAR Marked By Program-Meeting

One of the most beautiful birthday parties ever held by General Joseph Warren Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, was that marking its 31st anniversary and held last evening at the F. W. C. A. The very large attendance included a number of new members.

Chapter 21
Truck Driver

SHARON was just setting the table for dinner when the phone rang. What now? she wondered anxiously as she went to answer.

"Hello, sis," Dennis' voice was so low she could scarcely recognize it.

"Yes, Dennis. Anything the matter?"

"No. But I won't be home for dinner."

"Oh, too bad. I made you a lemon pie too," she said, chattily. "What's up? More overtime?"

"Listen," he interrupted almost crossly. "I'm in a hurry. Can't talk. I won't be home tonight. Maybe for a couple of days."

"A couple of days! What's the matter?" Alarmed at once, "Are you hurt? In trouble?"

"Neither. Don't worry. See you later."

He hung up then before she could answer.

Troubled by fears she could not name, Sharon stood at the phone a few minutes, tempted to call Mr. Goodwin, ask him to investigate for her. Then, slowly, she shook her head. That wasn't fair to Dennis. After all, he was no longer a baby. She mustn't bind him with apron strings.

Mechanically, she rescued the pie, browning its meringue in the oven, turned the baking potatoes. Too bad to waste a perfectly good dinner, she mused.

But it wasn't wasted. Tom Stafford dropped in on his way home from the office.

"Just thought I'd see how the ankle was," he said, easily, "besides, I missed you at the office today. Not sick are you?"

She shook her head. "Oh, no. But," she accepted the excuse Tom suggested, "my ankle bothered me so much during the night I didn't get much sleep. So I just decided to take the day off."

"Smart girl!" He glanced over her shoulder toward the kitchen. "Where's Dennis?"

"Oh, working some more overtime," she tried to say casually. "He just phoned."

Tom sniffed. "That wouldn't be any chance--a home-made pie, I see?"

"Yes, and not by any chance," Sharon laughed. "I don't suppose you'd like some."

Tom dropped his hat, his brief case onto the sofa, pulled a chair up to Dennis' place at the table, unfolded the napkin. "If you coaxed me, a little I'd stay for dinner," he said meekly.

"Yes," Sharon laughed. "You look as if you needed coaxing!" And she dropped the thick, warm steak onto the broiler to sputter while they ate the salad.

Little Party

AND under the alchemy of Tom's infectious good cheer, the little dinner became a party. Some of the tautness went out of Sharon's strained nerves as she laughed with him. Life just couldn't stay serious any more, she thought. And if he had set any wheels in motion to delay or destroy his country's war preparation, he certainly had no scruples about it. No man who could stow away the dinner he had with all the enthusiasm, the gusto of a small boy had any scruples. Either he was a genuine liar, or he was some superior or he was completely ruthless.

"What happened at the office today?" she asked finally.

He shook his head, reached for another biscuit. "It was a madhouse. Los Angeles called three times on the telephone. Some more orders were sent. We finally got the plant going again."

"Oh, good," Sharon, watching him covertly, began to clear the table. "Just what did happen to make the whole plant go out?"

Tom looked up at her steadily. "Somebody messed with the circuit breaker."

For the hundredth time, Sharon marvelled at his self-control. Not by the faintest twitch of a muscle did he betray his guilt.

"But who would do a thing like that?" she demanded.

He shrugged. "Don't ask me. Somebody who knows his electricity. Somebody who wanted to slow things up."

"You mean--sabotage?"

"What else could it be?"

Sharon rattled the coffee cups to hide her own agitation. "A mistake, maybe."

"I see," she murmured automatically. "That was no mistake. Whoever switched those wires knew exactly what he was doing."

No doubt, Sharon agreed silently. And no mistake about her cleverness right now either. Tom knew well that if he could convince her of his innocence--and what better way than to lay the cards out on the table boldly--she would be his chief defense.

"How much real damage did it do?"

"Plenty. We had to replace all the wires throughout. And now switches--the works! The boys worked steadily twenty-four hours a day, since it happened. The stuff promised for Saturday won't get out until tomorrow. Means that just that many planes are held up at the other end of the line. And delays are costly no matter what way you look at it." Then, changing the subject so adroitly it seemed perfectly spontaneous, he said, "Man alive, this is the most wonderful pie I ever tasted."
